

AGATI CASE STUDY

Custom study tables feature metal accents.

Marquette University Law School

RAY AND KAY ECKSTEIN HALL

Milwaukee, WI

AGATI Furniture recently helped furnish the new Eckstein Hall at Marquette University Law School, Milwaukee, WI. Designed to attract both current and prospective students, the building replaces the 85-year-old Sensenbrenner Hall. The new building encourages student gathering, offering expanded space for group study, an upscale café, moot court room, and advanced technology and equipment.

AGATI partnered with Joe Rondinelli, lead designer at Shepley, Bulfinch, Richardson and Abbott out of Boston to design furniture for the law school. All pieces are Rondinelli signature designs, engineered by AGATI to bring Mr. Rondinelli's vision to fruition. AGATI provided a custom version of its Hampton Banquette in the café, as well as a table designed by Mr. Rondinelli using LightBlocks® opaque resin, shaped into a "wave" design. Library tables and computer tables feature wood tops and metal base legs intended to complement the contemporary aesthetic of the new building.

AGATI's well-constructed pieces coupled with its ability to work with and carry out a designer's vision often suits a law library's need for longevity. Eckstein Hall leads the way in an age when many of the country's law schools exist in older buildings, making it difficult to keep up with modern technology required by law studies today. Data and power integration through much of the furniture allows students easy access to vast digital resources Eckstein Hall's library provides.

The centerpiece of the café is Joe Rondinelli's LightBlocks® table.

Marquette University Law School

RAY AND KAY ECKSTEIN HALL

Building upon its experience, AGATI has become a trusted resource among law libraries, having provided furniture for projects such as Duke University Perkins Law Library, Georgetown Law Reading and Technology Rooms, and University of California Berkeley's Boalt Hall.

AGATI is a furniture manufacturer providing design, engineering, delivery and installation services in the institutional, healthcare and corporate market. AGATI designs are characterized by a blend of aesthetics and engineering to create superior and enduring furniture. Choose AGATI for nationally recognized design, service and performance.

More information can be found at www.agati.com.

The library features square leg study tables with cherry tops.

Tables with 3form dividers featuring power and data access.

Custom Hampton Banquette seating in the café.

AGATI